A Letter From The Propitiators

-by Goon and Wizzo

Hey loosahs! We'z am back. We'z am pissed! We step out for a smoked druid... come back, and am being blamed for $#!+ we know nuthin' about. Who the hell is this firefeather kid? What have we ever done to you?? We'z am peaceful fun loving orks who love to make love as well as war, but am bein' blamed for taking down this gays kid tent! Why? Because we're not gay maybe? That is no reason to blame us for all the bad things that happen to you. Hate to break it to ya, but you'z iz not that impo'tant! Actually, I don't hate to say it at all. All that red belt means, is that you obviously give head better than the other potential squires! Nothin' that gives you power in any sort of way! So get ova' yo' little powa' trip punk! Also, someone (possibly that gay homosexual named firefeather who we will keep anonymous) decided to take down our tents as well! This includes mine, Wizzo's, and Squire Donavon, all of whom had nothing to do with this at all! Firefeather... if you are camping at harvest war... just watch out punk! I think i heard that those vandals from Florida may just be showin' up long enough to...

The Truth via Goon

-by Goon

And now, a retort by firefeather: mmmmm hmhmmhmmhmm

Huh, it appears he has been gagged by a dirty sock (or something from his knight that rhymes with sock anyway) but just in case you understood it, the views and opinions of firefeather do not reflect the views and opinions of anyone actually important!

Hark! What's that sound??? It's a high pitched shriek! Now, either that's dakota, or a bus with no brakes and a bomb aboard!!!!

By the way, Taleel, what the hell is up with this tortilla thing??? For those who don't know... Join the klub!

Apparently, he was making claims that we trashed his tent with flaming tortillas??? Maybe he saw Valdimar and thought of flammers! (Speaking of Valdimar... IN THE NAVY.... heh heh heh, you never should have told us.) Unless we got napalm... maybe from those Florida Vandals or something, there is no way we could set tortillas on fire! And also, if we were gonna' set something on fire, and throw it at your tent... it would be FIREFEATHER (well, he already has the flaming part down anyway).

Hey look! It's the American Samurai!!! wait a minute... you're not David Brady! Sai Eichie, hate to break it to ya... but you're just too tall to be a samurai! Wanna see an American Samurai? Go rent it at blockbuster!

Oh, by the way... Denial...
GOOOOAAAAALLLL!!!

PV vs. IM

-by Goon and Wizzo

We noticed that there was no big PV vs. IM battle this year. Are you stupid 'oomans tired of getting your pink asses kicked by IM with our Brennan, our Bo, our Goon and his squad, and our Wizzo in a can? Come on you damn queers at least try, maybe you can bring your uh... Andacar... and your uh... Firefeather... and uh maybe a road sign or something... maybe a kidney mobile or something... oh never mind. Your still a bunch of pussies though.

Disclaimer:

Master Lorithavon does not agree with any thing in this periodical (They just hired me to make it look better than the thing PV is trying to pass off as a newsletter). Well I agree that some of the stuff in here is pretty funny if you like that kind of privy humor that every one these days seems to enjoy. Speaking of the privy don't you hate it when it is late at night and you really have to go and you just can't remember the light spell quite right (not that this has ever happened to me or any thing I am a master wizard after all). So you have to go traipsing to the privy in the dark tripping over all of your spell books and magical items you forgot to put away before you went to sleep. Well you were going to put it away but you figured that you were so tired, and if you tried put away your of spell component jars you might drop one and get eyes of newt all over the floor. Those damn things are slippery as you know. So lets just say that this did happen. You would ended up slipping and falling on the newly lubricated floor. Now you have glass jammed in all the places you never wanted to get glass in or even near for that matter. Unless you are one of those sicko's out there that like that kind of thing. You know who you are so don't try to deny it. And even if you try to deny it I can produce five witnesses that will say they seen you do it on more than one occasion and actually enjoyed the glass in your unmentionables. But i digress what was I talking about any way? Oh well I can't remember, speaking about talking (does that sound weird to any one else?) Some people ask me. Hey Lot, (they call me that because it is short for Lorithavon) why do you hang around a bunch of smelly green skinned rat catin' goblins and orks, it's not that they particularly like the taste of rat they just like the way they wiggle on the way down. And besides who hasn't eaten the occasional rat in their day. Well looks like I'm just about out of time. Thanks for listening

Note: Ork Teef completely denies everything, said, spoken, implied, hinted at, thought of, dreamt of, depicted and/or illustrated in this issue, and all issues before it, and all issues to come

'Rakis vs Harvest war.

-by Wizzo

Often we've been complained to about not helping at Harvest War. There is a reason that we don't. Because Harvest War is planned by non-fighters, so the fighting ...well... sucks arse. 'Rakis on the other hand, is planned by fighters, so the fighting rules. At Harvest war is fought on about the worst field I've ever seen! There's cactuses all over the place, and it's full of PVer's. Sure the Arakis sight has weeds, but at least it doesn't have cacti and pedophile all over the place. For god sake, take it from a pair of hard core fighters—HARVEST WAR SIGHT SUCKS! Find a new one if your if you ever want your event to catch on!
